WHAT IS ACCESS UTAH COUNTY?

Utah County is experiencing unprecedented growth. To meet the increasing demand for improved access, the Utah Department of Transportation (UDOT) will expand two existing corridors and build two new corridors improving connectivity to the transportation network.

Access Utah County brings four major highway projects under a single UDOT project management team. The projects under this umbrella are:

S.R. 92: from I-15 in Lehi to Highland

Pioneer Crossing (formerly the East-West Connector):
American Fork Main Street to Redwood Road in Saratoga Springs

Vineyard Connector: American Fork Main Street to 800 North in Orem

S.R. 77 (400 South in Springville): I-15 to Main Street in Springville

- This is the first time UDOT has utilized this program management approach.
- Placing these projects under one roof, UDOT creates consistent communication and construction management for all four projects. Projects are design-build.
- Contract documentation and contractor selection process will be handled by one team, which accelerates construction.
- Goal: Complete all four projects before I-15 expansion in Utah County begins.
